

The Dragon Princess

This is no ordinary princess. She may look like one, but she has a dark, dark secret.....

If you think this girl is beautiful, she has another side to her! She was created by Zeus and Persephone (wife of Hades) and lives between the Overworld and the Underworld.

When in the underworld the princess changes. Her skin becomes ash white and she peels it back to allow the terrifying golden horns of a minotaur to grow between her flaming hair with singed ends. She reveals a course long snake tongue with her eyes of blazing fire. She opens her beautiful dragon wings of red, blue, and purple and uncovers her long tail of the devil.

As you may see in the background, the fires are burning from the depths of the Underworld! Her dress, once blue, is burnt and holds a belt of flames which contains her powers of fire and lava.

These two Princess are clearly very different. But do not be fooled! The clues on the picture can be seen between them. The colours on the crown, blue dress and butterfly are all colours of fire. Coloured contact lenses are hiding her devilish eyes. Foundation is used to cover her pale skin but there are bands on her arms which prevent her from morphing into the beast.

Be very careful! If you annoy her you will be faced with this terrifying demon!
