

Safer Stranger

This week we read "Harry and the bucketful of dinosaurs. As part of our work on this story, we have been thinking about who a safer stranger would be - who could help us if we were lost? The person below is a "safer stranger."

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for a drawing or writing. It occupies most of the page below the introductory text.